COACH PHIL SARBOE

Coach Phil Sarboe graduated from Washington State College in 1933. After his years of collegiate football were over he played professional football for the Chicago Bears. In 1937 and 1938 Phil coached football at Clarkston High School where he had a remarkable record. In 1939 Sarboe was given a chance to coach football at Aberdeen High School where he stayed until called to Central Washington. This is Phil's first year of coaching collegiate football and his record to date has been fine considering the fact that he has had very little material around which to build a team. Coach Sarboe has been building for future years.

The trainer of the Central Washington team is Burt Kebric, a former great athlete at University of California.

HEAD COACH: Clifford O. Olson

Clifford Orrin "Cliff" Olson, 36, is now in his 13th season as head coach of Pacific Lutheran College. The first 12 years probably were the hardest for the quiet Norwegian field general, but never before has he faced as strenuous a schedule as this 13th autumn, opening with powerful Gonzaga and closing with Portland University.

In 13 years, by sweat and tears and some blood, Olson has raised Pacific Lutheran athletics from the status of a tackling dummy for Tacoma high schools to that of equality with the Pacific Northwest's best known minor college teams. His present squad has won 15 out of 16 football games the past two years, rating with Stanford as the Far West's only undefeated and untied teams in 1940, but this winning streak is only typical. Through 1935-36, Olson's Gladiators went 20 games without a defeat.

Widely known as the little school without a practice field, without goal posts or any other football facilities, Pacific Lutheran this year is developing a modern athletic field which in future years will be a memorial to the teams Olson produced out among the boulders on "Parkland Pebbles."

Cliff Olson was a 140-pound fullback at Glenwood, Minn., high school. He went up to about 170 as fullback through four seasons with Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, and in his senior year kicked 15 successive conversions. Olson coached Marshall, Minn., high through a successful season in 1927, and in 1928 coached Spokane College (now closed) through four wins out of seven games. The school had 60 students and 15 boys turned out for football. Olson came to Pacific Lutheran in 1929 and that fall lost to Stadium, 33-0, and to Al Hopkins' Lincoln champions, 19-0. He still looks back on the Lincoln game as a moral victory, because the Lutherans made 12 first downs to Lincoln's 10.

Pacific Lutheran Gladiators . . .

MARV TOMMERVIK, L.H.

Marvin "Tommygun" Tommervik, Little All America halfback in 1940, starts his senior season with one of the country's finest forward passing records. The Nimble Norwegian from Snohomish county has completed 150 out of 302 passes the past two years, and 30 tosses have been completed for touchdowns. He weighs 171, stands 5-8 and is 21 years old.

M. HARSHMAN, F. B.

Marvel Harshman, 197-pound fullback and captain, has been called one of the half dozen best backs in the country. He can execute every phase of football play and do it well. Harshman is a born leader and his direction of the Lutheran team is one of the principle reasons for the successes of the past two years.

Big Harsh is the do-everything-well type of athlete. He stars equally in football, basketball, baseball and track. A girl once beat him at tennis, but we'll skip that.

TOM LUMSDEN, Q.B.

Tom Lumsden, 177-pound sophomore quarterback, is another one of last year's freshmen who are filling the graduation gaps in the 1941 Pacific Lutheran team. He's a triple-threat.

PETE PETERSON, L.G.

Pete Peterson, quick-starting running guard from Anacortes, is a 195-pound sophomore who promises to become one of the best linemen in the Winko league. Pete is filling the big brogans of George Broz this year.

HUGO SWANSON, R.T.

Hugo Swanson, 211 pounds of manly muscle, comes from Kapowsin. He's a sophomore and the rough-tough kind of tackle all coaches would give a leg to possess.
